Release/Permissions: I hereby grant the Columbia Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists or its assignees, without expectation of compensation, permission and first rights to use, alter, edit, rewrite, and publish, or to not use, my or my child's devotional submission, or any part thereof, for the purpose of publication, marketing, sale, promotional or broadcast use. I understand that, at the Columbia Union Conference's complete discretion, the content may be released and/or sold for use by print in magazines or books, online, video, podcast, advertising or other media outlets, including the Web/Internet/Intranet and social media, also without expectation of compensation by me or my child. I warrant to the Columbia Union Conference and its publishing partners that the devotional submitted is original on my or my child's part, and is in no way a violation of, or an infringement upon, any copyright or claim belonging to any third party. I further warrant that any copyrighted material included in this submission is clearly identified, and written authorization to publish from the source is included at the time of submission. I will indemnify and hold the Columbia Union Conference, and/or any of its publishing partners, harmless from any claims, costs, and damages relating to infringement of copyright by any third party regarding the content submitted, including without limitation all defense costs. This provision will survive termination of this agreement. I accept that the entries will be selected by a panel of editors for publishing consideration. I agree to abide by the rules and regulations of the Columbia Union Conference and its publishing partners. I acknowledge that in the event of a disagreement, the editors' decisions are final. I understand and agree that any devotional submitted becomes the property of the Columbia Union Conference and its publishing partners and will not be returned.
